1

Biodiversity Protection

- Turtles serve as key indicators of healthy oceans and sea-side habitats.
- Protecting turtles ensures the survival of many other species in their habitat.

2

Eco-Tourism Value

- The beautiful beaches of Greece attract thousands of eco-conscious tourists.
- Supporting conservation actions ensures Greece remains a top destination for sustainable tourism.

3

International Importance

- Greece hosts the largest breeding populations of the Loggerhead sea turtle in the Mediterranean.
- Through habitat protection, rescue, and rehabilitation, ARCHELON safeguards the future of Mediterranean sea turtles
